Chair, Architecture
College of Engineering, Architecture & Computer Sciences
Howard University
Washington, DC

Deadline: Open until filled
Type: Department Chair
Salary: Commensurate with experience
Employment Type: Full-Time
Department: Architecture
Position Number: ARCHCH2016

The Department of Architecture at Howard University’s College of Engineering, Architecture and Computer Sciences (CEACS) invites nominations and applications for the position of Professor and Chair of the Department of Architecture beginning August 2016.

Candidates must have a Masters of Architecture or a terminal degree in a related field (Ph.D. preferred) supported by relevant Architecture academic or industry experience and professional licensure or certifications. Candidates involved in research in related areas are highly encouraged to apply.

Successful candidate will serve as the academic and administrative leader of the program and key responsibilities in the following areas:

- Develop curriculum and faculty teaching schedule.
- Foster interdepartmental collaboration and continue to enhance the reputation of CEACS & Architecture in academic and professional circles.
- Serve as the academic and administrative leader of the program. The chair will work collaboratively with faculty and staff to lead academic/administrative affairs of the department while promoting excellence in teaching, assessment and related student learning outcomes.
- Provide effective leadership and direction for the Program through a process of shared governance; strategic planning; management of human, financial and physical resources, and supervision of the Program's compliance with (NAAB) accreditation standards.
- Work with the admission department to recruit talented students to the Department of Architecture.
- Evaluate professors within the department through class observations, a review of student evaluations, a review of service and professional development and a review of contributions to departmental goals.
- Develop, in consultation with Dean and department members, a strategic plan that is consistent with Department of Architecture goals and overall CEACS strategic plan.
CEACS is one of Howard University's 13 schools and colleges. The College is home to six academic departments offering accredited undergraduate, graduate and professional degree programs. The departments include Architecture, Chemical Engineering, Civil & Environmental Engineering, Electrical and Computer Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, and Computer Science.

To Apply: Complete applications submitted by December 1, 2015 will receive full consideration, though applications received after this date will continue to be reviewed until the positions are filled. Applications must include a cover letter specifying the area of specialization, complete curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, and names and contact information of at least three references. Submit all documents electronically to howardceacs@howard.edu Please indicate the position number (ARCHCH2016) on the subject line of your submission email.

About Howard: Founded in 1867, Howard University is a private, research university that is comprised of 13 schools and colleges. Students pursue studies in more than 120 areas leading to undergraduate, graduate and professional degrees. Since 1998, the University has produced two Rhodes Scholars, two Truman Scholars, a Marshall Scholar, 30 Fulbright Scholars and 11 Pickering Fellows. Howard also produces more on campus African-American Ph.D. recipients than any other university in the United States. For more information on Howard University, call 202-238-2330, or visit the University's Web site at www.howard.edu

EEO: The University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin, sex, marital status, religion, or disability. Veteran status and people with disabilities are encouraged to apply. Inquiries regarding provisions for persons with disabilities, equal employment opportunity and Title IX should be directed to the Office of the Vice President for Human Resources at (202) 238-5960.